6 APRIL 2025

Pregnancy

On the card: “Someone is on the way! Our little one arrives in spring. We couldn't keep it quiet any longer.”

Our little secret on an ordinary morning · 6 April

A LETTER TO NOOR

Dear Noor, that morning only we knew you were already here. Two little lines, cold coffee and a smile that stayed all day. We put your first tiny shoes beside the scan and practised saying it out loud: we are going to be parents. You were so small, yet our whole world already had a new centre. This is where your story began for us.

28 JUNE 2025

Pink or blue?

It was a girl!

Everyone had a feeling · 28 June

A LETTER TO NOOR

Dear Noor, everyone had a feeling. Grandma was certain; your aunt changed her mind three times. When we cut the cake, the garden went quiet for a heartbeat. Then came all the hugs. We just thought: there you are, a little closer now. It is not the colour we want to remember, but all those people who loved you before they met you.

Baby shower for Eva

14:00 · The Garden Café

All together, waiting for you · 23 August

A LETTER TO NOOR

Dear Noor, Sophie had arranged everything in secret. Flowers on the table, Mum's favourite cake and a chair where we would soon hold you. Everyone wrote down a wish for you. We read them again that evening, with your little kicks keeping us company. One day we will show you just how many people were waiting for you.

On the card: “We're over the moon! Noor is here, safe and well. Thank you for all your kind wishes.”

The first time there were three of us · 3 October

A LETTER TO NOOR

Dear Noor, at twelve minutes past eight everything changed. Your fingers closed around Dad's hand and Mum could not stop looking at you. Outside, an ordinary day was beginning. For us, a whole new life had started. We kept saying your name as though we were hearing it for the first time. Welcome home, little Noor. We are so glad you are here.

A LETTER TO NOOR

Dear Noor, today the living room could hardly hold everyone who came to meet you. You slept through the first cups of tea, then discovered the paper garlands. We took a photograph with everyone together. One day you will see more than a lovely afternoon. You will see the people who were there. Your first circle. With you right at its heart.
